

SPRING 1916

heralds an era of prosperity for we "U. S. A." era—unprecedented in the history of our country—and we are going to show it too. You will want better clothes than ever this Spring to keep step with the new times and opportunities. There never was a season when quality was so important—or so scarce.

Our first Spring shipment of these fine clothes has just arrived. We have placed some of them in our windows. Make it a point to see them and note how the styles reflect the American Spirit of 1916.

We extend a cordial invitation to all our friends to come in and see the authoritative styles in Spring Clothes and inspect the fabrics.

Prices from $10 to $30.

LINCOLN'S BRIDESMAID

Death of the Venerable Mrs. Margaret Stuart Woodrow At Versailles Thursday.

Mrs. Margaret Stuart Woodrow, 98 years old, the oldest white person in Woodford county, the history of whose family is closely linked with the history of Kentucky and the nation, died at Versailles Thursday morning at the home of her niece, Mrs. John W. Berryman. Mrs. Woodrow was a cousin and an intimate friend of Mary Todd, the wife of President Abraham Lincoln, and was a bridesmaid at their wedding. She was also a sister of John Todd Stuart, Lincoln's first law partner in Springfield, Ill. She was a daughter of the Rev. Robert Stuart, one of the first three professors of old Transylvania University; a granddaughter of General Levi Todd, the pioneer Indian fighter and the first clerk of Fayette county, and a great-niece of Colonel John Todd, civil Governor of the county of Illinois. Mrs. Woodrow was born in Fayette county in September, 1817. She married Joshua Woodrow, a merchant of Hillsboro, O., and lived in that city until about fifteen years ago, when her husband died and she went to Versailles.

RAILROAD TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION.

The Owensville & Olympia railroad, a narrow gauge, running from Preston on the C. & O. to Owensville, will be sold under the hammer next Monday, April County Court Day, at Owensville. For some time the road has not been paying, but a number of public-spirited citizens have joined together to purchase the road and place it on a paying basis. The road may be extended to Olympia Springs in the near future, as this was the intention of the builders when it was first constructed. Owensville is the county seat of Bath, and is five miles from the C. & O. road.

ATTORNEY JAMES B. CUMBER DEAD.

James B. Cumber, aged 58, died at his home in Flemingsburg Wednesday morning after a long illness of tuberculosis. He was well known in this city. In 1897 he was nominated by the Republicans of Fleming county for the office of county attorney, being elected by a good majority over A. O. Stanley, now Governor, and Mr. Cumber made that county a splendid official. He is survived by his widow but no children.

STOCK SOLD WELL.

There were about 300 cattle in Flemingsburg Monday, mostly of poor quality and half or more sold at unprecedented prices. Steers sold mostly by the head and brought 7½ to 8½ cents and some possibly higher. There was some much trade with probably fifty miles on the market, prices ranging from $125 to $200. One pair sold at $352. W. H. Bell sold a pair at $380, and a single mule at $140. Another single mule sold at $200. A bunch of eight steers sold at $45 and several long yearlings at $45 to $52.

Mrs. George McDonald, living near Augusta, was taken to the Bethesda Hospital, Cincinnati, on Wednesday afternoon of last week, and on the following day an operation was performed, the left eye being removed in a most successful manner. Mrs. McDonald had been a sufferer for some time with glaucoma of the eye.

Georgetown has the most reckless city official we ever heard of. The Times tells of a councilman who in a fit of anger at having been almost run down, threw a basket of eggs at an automobile driver.

Ereel Liles, aged 17, son of W. T. Liles and wife of Rugless, Lewis county, died at Stark, W. Va., Tuesday, having taken sick with brain fever last Saturday.

RIVER NEWS

While the Tacoma was discharging a nice bunch of freight at the foot of Market street Friday morning Alex Shaw, one of the few remaining old-time mates on the river, amused a large gathering of citizens by his "hanging out the orders" to the rowers. It was the first time a sure enough mate had been heard here for years and Alex was there with the real goods. Another side altercation was when the assistant wharfmaster had told a rouster where he wanted freight placed and Mr. Rouster wanted it else where, when he was promptly handed a "Willard" jab in the jaw and sent him to the count by the big-hearted, big-fisted genial assistant to Captain Phister, he being one of the most accommodating gentlemen that Captain Phister has had in years, and when the rouster reached for a rock, he was grabbed by Mr. Assistant, given a shaking like a ferrier would a rat after which he was thoroughly tamed, then will not be run over, that's a cinch, and we are for him.

The Courier, ten hours late, passed down Friday morning, and will return Saturday morning.

RELIGIOUS CENSUS

Canvassers To Make Tour of City Next Sunday Afternoon For Desired Information.

Some announcement has already been made that a religious census of the city of Mayville will be made on next Sunday afternoon. It is believed that the whole city can be covered in two hours' time, so that all the canvassers are expected to do their work from 2 to 4 o'clock, and the residents of the city are requested to see that some one is at the home to give the desired information.

The questions to be answered are as follows and so should be readily answered without embarrassment to either the home where the census is being taken or to the person who is taking the census. These are the questions to be answered:

1. To what faith or denomination do you belong?
2. What Mayville church or minister do you prefer?
3. Is your church membership here?

4. Do you attend Sunday school?
These questions will be asked of every member of the family and as all of one family's answers are to be placed on the same card, the card will be headed with the family surname and street address, that each individual's first name will be placed before the space where the answer to the questions are to be written. If members of the family prefer different churches it should be so stated. If there should be visitors or boarders or other persons rooming in the home who are not members of the family, a different card will be made for each of these.

It is the committee's plan to furnish boardinghouses and hotels with cards on Saturday so that these can be filled out by the boarders and roomers and be given on Sunday to the canvassers.

Those who make the census are requested to classify the cards according to the churches preferred. In event that there are two churches preferred by persons on the same card, then a duplicate of this card should be made and both cards marked "duplicate," and a card placed with each of the churches thus preferred. These cards are all to be returned to T. J. Curry or other members of the committee by 10 o'clock Monday morning.

GOOD ROADS AND GOODRICH.

"American motorists will reap an immense benefit from approximately $250,000,000 expended last year on highway construction," said Mr. E. C. Tibbitts, director of advertising of the R. F. Goodrich Company. "The big national highways of which we have been reading so much, are in my opinion, only the forerunners of a network of good roads that will have a tremendous effect on increased motor and tire sales. Automobile owners should not overlook the important part played by the Goodrich touring bureau in promoting more and better highway building. Tire owners will realize a tremendous amount of additional mileage per casing this season due to good roads. While this big saving will come to the tire owners individually, tire sales will increase materially, nevertheless, on account of the new fields opened up and the increased sale of automobiles."

MEAT THIEVES AT STAIRSBURG.

(Dover News.)
Thieves who have a particular hankering for juicy hog meat are still active in this vicinity. Sunday night about 9 o'clock at the residence on Poplar street owned and occupied by Mary Carter and the family of Robert Stroud, the thieves were frightened away after they had removed all the meat from the smokehouse, leaving their booty behind. The thieves had succeeded in removing the meat from the smokehouse without detection, and were about ready to make their getaway with it when members of the family heard a noise and investigated. They saw one man running away and found all the meat piled up in the yard. The raid occurred before the members of the household had retired for the night.

The Winchester Lodge of Elks is planning for a home coming of the members of that organization and April 25 is the date set for the event. There are about fifty members of the lodge at different points in Kentucky and also some are located in other states.

Frank M. Greene, aged 86, one of Ripley's oldest and most respected citizens, died Tuesday.

At Lexington the other day a negro woman was arrested for complicity in a robbery and upon being searched $80 was found concealed under her arm pit. The money was sure in a "strong" place.

A religious census of Carlisle will be taken next Sunday afternoon. This will be a united effort by all the churches of the town.
